

How Long Until My New Domain Registration Is Active

Usually a domain will be registered within a couple of hours from the order submit and successful payment processing. However, you may need to wait up to 24 hours before the DNS propagate for the domain and it becomes usable.

If your domain has not become accessible within 48 hours, please contact Support for further assistance.